

Barry M. Goldwater Scholarship

The Barry Goldwater Scholarship is the most prestigious undergraduate scholarship in the natural sciences, mathematics and engineering. Awards of up to $7,500 per academic year for up to two undergraduate years are made to outstanding students who plan to pursue research careers. Recipients are selected based on excellent academic records, along with demonstrated interest in and potential for research careers.

Eligibility

- Have one or two years of undergraduate study left and be enrolled full-time.
- Be a U.S. citizen or permanent resident.
- Have a demonstrated interest in a research career in the natural sciences, engineering, or mathematics. Applicants typically have extensive lab experience along with research outputs (presentations, publications, etc.)
- A cumulative GPA of 3.0 or greater is required to apply. Recipients typically have a cumulative GPA of 3.8 or greater.
